V. Conclusion

Women's Care Center is located in a simply beautiful old home in a residential area that naturally draws women and families there for much needed services and assistance. A woman experiencing an unexpected pregnancy can't help but feel at "home" when she enters this office! It is very well organized, maintained, comfortable, safe, and pleasant. The staff members whom I had the pleasure of meeting were very helpful, organized, and well-trained. It's very easy to see why women would want to come to Women's Care Center for confidential, compassionate and free services.

The following is merely one of countless client success stories:

When Nicole was given the positive result from her pregnancy test, she was shocked. She was only 14 years old, and was very scared about how her mother and grandmother would react to the news. Nicole's desire was to parent. She was also willing to consider adoption, however when her mother found out, she strongly pressured her to abort. When her mom called the Women's Care Center to request an ultrasound, she was very angry and discussed with the counselor her desire for her daughter to abort. The counselor talked with Nicole's mom about the options of adoption, maternity homes and parenting. A few days later, Nicole's mother came with her to the ultrasound. After the ultrasound and more counseling, Nicole's mother offered to help her parent and encouraged her to participate in the classes and goal program offered by the Women's Care Center. Since that time, Nicole has attended more than 25 parenting classes! Her mom attended many of them with her as a support person. The father of her baby attended our Newborn Care class series as well. Nicole also met consistently one-on-one with a counselor to work on her goals through our Goal program. Through these programs, Nicole has been able to earn many items from our Crib Club store including a crib and mattress, bassinet, car seat and many other items for her baby. Nicole is now feeling confident, supported, and ready to be a mother. She delivered her baby boy on August 19th. He weighed 6lb and 14 oz and is off to a good start with breastfeeding. Our services continue after a baby's birth so we will be here to support her and she navigates parenting in the weeks and years ahead. We are so grateful for all the support that allows us to offer women these and many more services free of charge.

V. Conclusion

Catholic Charities Diocese of Kalamazoo's Office is very beautiful, well-organized and very spacious. When I mentioned that, one of the counselors indicated that it is so comfortable that sometimes clients stop by just to "hang out" in their common area. The staff is nothing short of friendly, inviting, super, well-organized, and very dedicated. The site is very easily accessible by clients, and off-street parking is available. It's not hard at all to see why their clients love to receive necessary services at their site.

The following is merely one of countless client success stories:

A young, homeless teenage client came to Caring Network suspecting she might be pregnant. She already had a one year old son and was scared to be pregnant again; her two children would be so close in age and she lacked the resources to care for them. She took a pregnancy test and discovered she was, indeed, pregnant. She reported feeling excited, but also said she felt frustrated and depressed. The assessment – including the Edinburgh Perinatal Depression Scale – affirmed these feelings and helped us tailor services to meet her needs. The father of the baby was with her through this process, but was unemployed and unable to be a strong support as a result.

She agreed to work with Caring Network staff (through the Real Alternatives program) and engaged in services, coming to Caring Network several times a month and attending classes. She also accessed our pantry several times to get needed resources for herself, her baby, and her son. Case managers worked with her to help her complete high school and receive her diploma. They also assisted her to find safe and stable housing, connect with prenatal health care, and create a healthy home for her two children. As part of the process, they assisted the father of the baby as well, helping him find a job and become the stable support and father the client needed him to be. Together they are learning parenting skills and working with their children to ensure they have age-appropriate development skills.

The story is not complete, but has demonstrated major success so far. We continue to work with these young parents to help them build and sustain a strong and stable family.

V. Conclusion

Catholic Charities of Southeast Michigan's Warren office is located in a nice, relatively quiet neighborhood that is very inviting to clients. The office space is clean, comfortable, and more that adequate for the provision of services to potential clients. The staff is very welcoming, pleasant, and well-organized. It's not surprising that many clients love to come to this office to receive much needed help/

The following is merely one of countless client success stories:

At 22, Janet had overcome much adversity in her life. Janet grew up in poverty and suffered abuse of every kind from her family, as well as her partner. When she became pregnant, she was shocked and didn't know where to turn. Her neighbor, Kate, who received help from CCSEM during her pregnancy, recommended her to our Project Hope program in Warren. While receiving support from our Pregnancy Counselor, Janet decided to continue her pregnancy. She wanted the chance to raise a happy, healthy baby, and show her child the love she had never received.

To become a successful mom, Janet needed emotional support, as well as additional assistance with things like finances and school. During her pregnancy, she visited our site many times, and she was able to learn how to effectively nurture her child and foster physical, social, and mental development. Our social worker provided Janet with support at a critical time. She learned how to take care of her baby by not only visiting our site, but also gained important information from our classes for new moms. The social worker encouraged her to continue her education, and helped her to access available resources. Janet got resources regarding going back to school, and by getting help with her resume, she was also able to obtain a part time job as a secretary in a local office. Thanks to the support from Catholic Charities of Southeast Michigan Project Hope program, she has become a mother, and the young woman of her dreams. Today, Janet is a bright, well-educated, and nurturing mom, who is currently enrolled in a local community college working on her nursing career.

V. Conclusion

Catholic Charities West Michigan's Kalamazoo Office is very clean, comfortable and well maintained. It is located in an office building that houses several other programs. The counselor is very pleasant and knowledgeable. The client services at this office are very low, but they hope to serve more clients as they move forward. Their files are very well organized, and all required policies and procedures are current and well organized.

The following is merely one of countless client success stories:

Client was a 17 year old woman who was close to aging out of the foster care system. Client had been accepted at a local university and was planning on enrolling in the fall to pursue her educational goals. As she neared the completion of high school, she learned that she was unexpectedly pregnant. Client stated that the father of the baby, her boyfriend, who was a high school junior, was encouraging her to have an abortion. Client and her boyfriend feared that if the boyfriend's mother were to find out that the client was expecting she would kick her son out of the house. Client also considered abortion because she feared how raising a baby would jeopardize her educational goals.

Client sought the guidance of the pregnancy counselor at Catholic Charities West Michigan, who was able to provide options counseling. The client and pregnancy counselor discussed parenting and adoption options, as well as the long term emotional effects of choosing abortion. After several weeks of counseling around the pregnancy, the client's boyfriend stated that his mother told him if she ever found out that client was pregnant, she would in fact kick him out of the house. Client reported at that time she had decided to move forward with the abortion. Client stated she wanted to meet with her pregnancy counselor one more time prior to the scheduled day of the abortion.

During this visit client continued to explore her feelings about proceeding with the abortion. The pregnancy counselor assisted the client with exploring the long term effects of making a decision about abortion, parenting and adoption.

The day following the scheduled abortion, client called the pregnancy counselor at Catholic Charities West Michigan and reported that she had decided not to follow through with the abortion. Client stated that after much thought she would like to parent the baby. Client stated that she is planning to move to her God Parents house, where she will be close to a local college. Client states she is looking forward to parenting her baby in a safe and stable home environment, while still pursuing her education.

Client continued to meet with the pregnancy counselor to work on budgeting, baby care, and parenting. Client has now given birth to a health baby boy. After giving birth, she stated that she couldn't believe that she ever considered aborting her baby. Both mom and baby are doing well.

V. Conclusion

Pregnancy Aid's office is located in Detroit in an area that is so in need of community services. It's a bit deceptive from the outside as it looks rather plain, yet not intimidating for potential clients. Once inside, you can easily tell why their clients find their site to be so warm and inviting. The physical appearance is one thing, but it is the warm and welcoming staff that makes Pregnancy Aid so effective at meeting the clients' needs.

The following is merely one of countless client success stories:

Most women see abortion as a last resort in a terrible situation. If offered support however, many women find hope, and make the choice they really want.

"Leah" came to Pregnancy Aid looking for a free pregnancy test. After we confirmed a positive pregnancy test result with her, she shared that she suspected she was pregnant, but knew that her husband would not be supportive. When she went home with the news, she knew he would ask her to abort. We offered her a free ultrasound, and invited her to bring her husband.

They both came in for the ultrasound. On the screen, they saw their 10 week old baby. She wanted to continue with the pregnancy, in spite of their family's financial situation. He did not. She disclosed later that he believed they did not have the money for a baby, and that they both needed to finish medical school.

Leah continues to come to Pregnancy Aid for emotional support and material aid. She said her husband is still troubled with added responsibility, but he is not demanding an abortion. So far, Leah has attended eight classes at Pregnancy Aid, and has received diapers, clothing and baby accessories. She also frequently comes in for one-to-one peer support. Pregnancy Aid was able to work with another charity to obtain financial assistance for Leah for rent. She plans to take the Fall semester off from school and return Winter 2016. Her baby boy is due in October 2015.
